

Robert Lemon

motivational speaker

Renowned speaker, film producer and TV personality ROBERT LEMON has risen to prominence by delivering a high-energy message that inspires people to take responsibility for their lives and live up to their greatness.

■ Believe Your Dreams team building

The true reward of something well done is to have done it. Some people only dream of success, while others wake up and work hard at it. Work on your lifelong dream, become successful and people will compensate you for what you love to do. Participants will address challenges in the workplace because of poor planning, eliminate communication distractions and focus on not just personal, but also team goals. Choosing right over wrong, ethics over convenience and truth over popularity. Concentrating on their own behavior, and not that of their counterparts, enables most people to listen and respond positively without defending themselves. OUTCOMES: Learn to choose activities, establish and support your organization's mission, vision and strategic goals.

■ Now is Your Time time management

Spectacular achievement is preceded by spectacular preparation. This presentation helps participants plan their way to success, create clear and defined goals, and learn key components of goal setting. Manage multiple priorities, eliminate stress in decision making and take control of your social, business and family lives. OUTCOMES: Eliminating the most common time wasters. Taking more efficient control of daily tasks.

■ TEAM... Together Everyone Achieves More diversity

Diversity is measured by emphasizing differences and similarities in all individuals and understanding everyone's strengths and weaknesses. For your organization to succeed, you must recognize and respect those whose skills are strong enough to take the team where it needs to go. Your style of coaching has the power to enhance relationships, open lines of communication and improve credibility with others. Collaboration, cooperation and coaching bring quality, excellence and integrity in the workplace. OUTCOMES: Learning how to effectively work with unresponsive or difficult team members. Coming together in a multicultural environment is just the beginning; working together is progress, and keeping together is success.

“Thank you for your very professional presentation during our recent Management retreat. Our employees and senior staff were challenged and motivated to remind each other that through commitment, collaboration and cooperation there was no limit to where our city could go. The Vision and Excellence tools you discussed will have a tremendous impact on the City.”

— KELVIN L. BAKER, CITY MANAGER, OPA-LOCKA, FL

"Thank you for your involvement at our Celebration of Culture event. Your personal testimony was heartfelt and relatable to audience that included students, faculty, and staff. My Graduate Assistant told me that she was touched by your story and inspired to continue her graduate study despite any adverse circumstances. I am sure many other students in the room felt the same way. The Office of Multicultural and Leadership Development at FGCU looks to bring high quality programs to our campus. Those programs not only demonstrate values in culture and heritage, but also educate and create awareness within our community. Having you as our keynote speaker this year allowed us to achieve these goals. We look forward for the opportunity to work with you again in the future." — XUE QIN WANG, ASST.
